

Making the Most of Your Telephone Townhall

Maximize your event and keep the conversation going with a telephone townhall.

Step One: Automate Your Pre-Calls

In the lead-up to your event, invite your targeted participants by calling them with a pre-recorded message. A pre-call allows attendees to plan ahead, making them more likely to answer your call.

Step Two: Text Your Invitations

Did you know that 98% of text messages are read within 2 minutes? Increase turnout and participation by texting a link to a registration form or website, and let CHQ track RSVPs for you.

Step Three: Enjoy Your Event

You can rely on CHQ to provide a moderator and expert screeners for your event, allowing you to sit back and relax.

Step Four: Revel in Your Success

Immediately after your event concludes, our team will provide instant insights into participants' engagement as well as poll results and data analysis. We can also help you livestream your event and provide you with promotional clips afterward, too.

Step Five: Keep the Conversation Going

Don't lose momentum after your event ends! Share sound bites via automated calls and text messages to reach an even larger audience with the click of a button. You can also share clips by email or through social media. Your voters will have instant access to past events and can even sign up for future events with CHQ's integrated system.
